ON O'FERRALL'S LIST.

THE NAMES TO BE SUBMITTED FOR DELEGATES FROM MANCHESTER.

Five People Sick from Eating Canned Beef-A Baby Falls from a Win-an O'Ferrall meeting in Manchester was present at the gathering of the congressman's friends in Leader Hall last night, Chairman James F. Bradley presided, and Mr. William G. Burgess acted as secretary,

Mr. Bradley stated that during the past ew days many names had been added to club, and that the meeting was to conthe club, and that the meeting was to consider suggestions relative to the ward meeting for Tuesday. Mr. A. J. Gallegher, of the Second Ward, said it was his intention to do all that he could to elect the delegates, and from what he had heard he felt very much encouraged at the outlook.

Mr. Bradioy said a slate had been prepared at the meeting Friday might, showing the names of the gentlemen whom the O Ferrall people would submit for election elected at a safety of the series of the ser egates, and asked if it was the sense meeting to give the names to the

A Church-Hill Pic-Nie Party.

The pie-me given by several young people of Church Hill at Ladd's farm on Tuesday was a most enjoyable affair, and the day was delightfully spent by the frolickers. Upon returning to the city at night the party stopped at the residence of Mrs. Dearbeart, on Twenty-fifth street, where they spent the evening. Amoning those who attended the pie-mic were: Misses Ids Bearheart, Mattie Benedics, Ula Schletcher, Blanch Cor, Misses Yacks.

Misses Barnett, Annie Matthews, Sallie Saunders, Bettie Childress, Mamie Wade, Otelia Wade, Annie and Jane Fuqua, Belle Leber, Lydia Cox, Irene Thorne, Erhel Payne, Birdie Cox, Delia Yarbrough, Florence Pendle, and Messrs. Scherer. Acree, Graham, Wagner, Burnett, De Priest, Cannon, Hubank, Garnett, Baker, James Rumbough, Miles, Wilde Rumbough, Smith, Hannon, Blankensnu, Leidy, Persons, and Goodeliffe. Mesdames Cox, Dearheart, Benedict, and Jones chaperoned the party, which left the city in three large tourst wagons, reaching the farm early in the morning before the sun rays had become unpleasant. The day was spent in one round of pleasure, consisting of dancing, strolling, swinging in hammocks, and last of all, eating a regular old pic-nic dinner.

Would Have Been Beaten,

The game of base-ball which was to have been played at Island Park vester-day afternoon between the Virginia Military Institute cadets and Lumsden's Cotts was interrupted by the rain ere two innings had elapsed, but from the way the sport commenced it looked very much as it the Virginias had a "lead-pipe cinch" on victory. Host, the wonderful twirler from Newport News, occupied the box for the local team, and his monkey-doings with the horsehide absolutely amazed the Lexington generals, who could not touch him.

BUT FOR THE RAIN.

The local colts were the first to the bat, and by means of a base hit and a wild throw Enright scored. The cadets in the opening inning showed that they were astounded by the tricks of the loose-jointed wonder from the Eastern Shore. Two of the future chieftams beat the rainisden air in their efforts to smite the sphere, while the other fised out to first. In the second inning, by means of two errors and Leftwitch's hit, two more of Lumsden's Tailenders galloped over the plate. When the game stopped in the second inning the first batsman of the cadets had gotten his base on balls.

Ere the shower had continued many minutes the dramond was flooded, while the 250 granks who retreated to the grandstand caught a copious supply of the crystal fluid, which dripped through the holes of the roof. The managers of the park should certainly have the place covered with tin or fixed in some way so that the rain cannot drip through, as it affords no shelter at all in case of a storm. The lades who went to see the cadets dally with the sphere fared wretchedly, and their beautiful. Worth gowns." and "conceptions of Felix" were much soiled indeed.

GREAT GAME NEXT TUESDAY.

On Tuesday afternoon the Callegiate GREAT GAME NEXT TUESDAY.

On Tuesday afternoon the Collegiate Spiders will meet the Farmers, from Petersburg, and the youngsters declare that they are going to wallop the Cockade City agriculturists or "break a trace" in trying. Anthony, the descendant of Marcus Antonius, will pitch for the cultured Tarantulas, This youngster pitched for Douati's Giants some weeks ago when they defeated the Patershures. Mr. Francisco Donati's Giants some weeks ago when they defeated the Petersburgs. Mr. Francisco de Rimini Duke will catch Anthony, Hazen will play as short, and Hunt as first. Scott, the gentleman who wears the beautiful white shoes, will "hold down' second, while the outfield will consist of Henricus Ellyson (left), Guilelmus Duke, and Tecumseh Haas. This is the strongest team the Spiders can muster, and with it they expect to do wonders.

On Wednesday afternoon the Greek-reading Tarantulas will cross bats with the Virginias.

Manager Leath has already begun the work of renovating and improving the Mozart Academy for the approaching the atrical season. The entire interior is to be repainted and freshened, and the scenery is to be retouched and made to appear new. The lobby is undergoing the influences of water and brush, and its walls will soon be ornamented by new and handsome portraits of well-known actors and actresses. Within the last few days Mr. Leath has booked its splendid attractions, one of them one of the largest and finest opera companies travelling.

Mr. W. A. (Lonnie) Graves, who has for several seasons been the stage-carpenter at the Theatre, is filling that position with Mr. Leath at the Academy.

The improvements at the Richmond Theatre begin to-morrow. As has been published in this paper, the boxes will be so altered as to give 10 feet more width to the stage front and much new scenery.

RAIN COOLS THE AIR.

A REFRESHING SHOWER BREAKS THE FORCE OF A HOT SPELL.

The Thermometer Did Not Get So High Yesterday, but the Heat was Very Oppressive..

Richmond went through another sweltering day yesterday.

Although the thermometer did not ge thoroughly loosened up, its highest registration being 91 degrees, man and beast suffered terribly. It was a murky, oppressive day that welted the human economy and tended to keep the heat inside the body rather than force it to find an exit in spiration. The same condition seems to have existed all over the State.

to have existed all over the State.

THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

There was, the DISEARCH learned through the courtesy of the Chesapcake and Ohio telegraph office, great complaint about the heat, but only at Staunton. Scottsville, and Gordonsville did the thermometer seem to appreciate what was expected of it and show a proper ambition to rise. At the first-named place the mercury made a spurt by which it was enabled to reach 93 degrees, but when time was called the Scottsville instrument had made a record of 99 and Gordonsville had scored 100 degrees and won the race. Other points, such as Covington, Lexington, and Lynchburg, struggled in at about 90 degrees and Newport News was shut out at 83 by rain.

A REFRESHING SHOWER COMES.

A REFRESHING SHOWER COMES. Yesterday evening there was a hunder-storm here and a refreshing shower of some minutes' duration, which caused the mercury to drop by 7 o'clock to 78°. This drop, however, did not bring unalloyed relief. It made the files very sociable, and going bald-headed was very uncom-fortable except where electric-fans were at work or the air was laden with the per-tumes of sassafras-oil.
